

Explore the local Pwani fishing village

Buy your own fish at the market and we cook it to your liking in the evening.

From the hotel we take you to Pwani Fishing village, a local fishing village in the nook of the beautiful scenic coastline of Kilwa. Pwani is a traditional fishing village where artisanal fishermen ply their trade. Here you see all what the Indian Ocean has to offer. Take your time; admire the beautiful and very often plentiful catch of the day. See how they trade their fish here. These fishermen go out into the ocean to fish. When they come back the mostly female traders wade through water to bring the fish on land. Here the ladies will clean and prepare the fish and sell this house by house by carrying the fish in buckets. The fish market traders from Kilwa Masoko will walk around and buy their product for the market. Chefs from the restaurants in the area are also buying their fish here. Make sure that if you see a fish that you want to eat tonight, that you make an offer. Our chef or guide is on hand to help and guide you. So after a good look around buy your own fish for dinner. Then you leisurely go back to the hotel and chef will prepare your fish to your liking.

Duration of tour: about 2 hours

Best time to do this: early mornings or later afternoon

Price: $ 10 per person for transportation, minimum 2 people.

Includes: Transport, guide, bottle of water, tour of the Pwani fishing village

